

Seeking for revelations

I am back from my small trip in Belgium and in the East of France. I was feverish and had sore muscles for two days around the 21st of June. However, I lived beautiful experiences of awareness of consciousness's understanding with my interior guide and made beautiful meetings, intense in exchange.

During my tour, I realised that many people still watch television and obviously, "fate" wanted me to watch an extract of the programme "Enquiries and revelations". I was then able to observe how the media manipulate pictures, cut conversations, add commentaries in order to fool the viewers and distil to them soft lies.

Something was telling me that my feverish state was probably linked with this television programme but also in relation with the solstice. I therefore sat in front of a sheet of paper and interrogated my Angel about this subject.

- Why was I feverish and who was the person that appeared to me through a menhir, during my trip to Belgium ?

- This person manifested himself to your eyes in the form of a druid. He reflects the image of one of your incarnations in these places. You have reconnected to memories of your soul that was incarnated in that person. As being a druid, "you" taught a knowledge, forwarding the secrets of alchemy, of knowledge and of recovery. "You" had many sympathisers and "you" made money out of your teachings and of your treatments. This was not dishonest as such, however you had let yourself get deluded by your beliefs and at the same time, you had deluded your contemporaries through magic practices, in order to cure their interior uneasiness.

That is one of the reasons for which in your current life, you again wanted to cure the others, through your nurse job. Of course I agree with you, you were unaware that by wanting so much to cure others, you were denying your own self. As a nurse, on doctor's prescription, you gave treatments and medications very often being inefficient as the modern medicine cures symptoms, but not the deep cause of the illness. Like many of your colleagues, you have only been handing over knowledge swallowed during your studies, without being able to check yourself their innocuousness and their efficacy.

Indeed, when I became aware of these practices often being inefficient, even mafialike of the health system in which I was involved, I had an enormous shock causing a deep depression. It is for that matter because of the many vaccines' victims, that I became aware of the sordid manipulations of the medical system.

This was part of the plan of your soul. It led you in these experiences so that you can become aware of your role. Therefore you had the choice, either to close your eyes on the dishonest activities of the medical system and keep the safety of your job, either to learn to listen to your heart, to reconnect with your integrity, your honesty towards yourself. It is by the way the choice that you have made and you can congratulate yourself about it. As a consequence, your upward fever pressures are the symptoms of the deprogramming in your DNA, of this functioning's outline.

- Why was I brought to watch this television programme ?
- This programme affected many people. It concerned the subject of the nursing staff, of therapists and of 2012. It could by the way have entitled itself "In quest of revelation", as many therapists are in this quest of truth. It is again a guidance of your soul in order to let you be able to write on this subject. Having seen and accepted your functioning's outline through your experiences as a druid and a nurse, you were able to understand how to deprogramme these "Self-deny" outlines, as you have understood that by wanting to cure the other you refused to look at your own pains.

What I am going to reveal to you can rattle the people that stay firmly attached to their own beliefs. In this report, it was a question not only of therapists but also of the Apocalypse of 2012, cults...

It must be known that the date of the 21st of December 2012 is insidiously programmed in the human being's psyche by the organisations and cults, in the government's pay of the New World Order*. They have deliberately orchestrated this confusion in order to mislead the population about the true issue in which humanity is in currently.

It is important to understand that 2012 marks the beginning of new humanity's birth and that it will be the following years, that will be the most important for its evolution. Humanity is in the middle of the Apocalypse's process that very rightly means "Revelation" in greek. Every human being when he is ready, can be called to reveal himself, remembering himself of who he is. It is not necessary to wait for 2012 to execute one's own awakening. Medias have used this date to divert the seeker to discover his essence and reveal it to himself.

Therefore, the due date of the 21st of December 2012, is a gigantic mass manipulation to delude the human being's psyche. It makes it possible to generate unfounded fears by using catastrophic allusions to the "Apocalypse", linking it to probable cataclysmic futures. I remind you that the future is a projection in the illusion of time. It must be known that the current cataclysms going on on Earth are for most of them already caused by the fear and anger egreore that the human's unconscious projects in his creation. The occult elites are aware of this phenomenon that links between them, the fear egregore and the climate. That meaning that the worldwide occult government because it generates fear, is the real craftsman of the climatic malfunction.

The New Age gurus, unaware of being the instruments of the New World Order, are the vectors of a pre-established and falsified teaching by occult orders. Many of them are only forwarding what they have wisely (“wise-lie”) learnt through various teachings that they found in books and esoteric media. So stay vigilant as the pseudo gurus who offer to prepare yourselves to 2012 through ceremonies, rituals, charms, crystals... are quite simply what the sacred texts call the “fake christ”. They will attempt to bring yourselves away from your Beingness. Angels are not dressed-up of white and do not ask you for money in order for the light to “come down”.

- But then all of the concept of the Ascent in 2012 conveyed by the media is false ?
- Absolutely, it is based on a mass manipulation which, I remind you, comes from the Maya calendar. Mayas are the wizards of illusion and the masters of time. Time is an illusion that only exists in “the Maya”, that meaning magnetic meshes or “the matrix”, and that you name the 3rd density. The awakening of the human being consists in extracting himself out of this 3rd density to “take foot” in a new reality that you name the 5th density, which is the one of the present moment. In this way the Ascent is not a change of location but the access to another vibratory state (of mind).
- Can you explain to me what is currently happening on our planet ? What does these climatic changes mean, these disasters, these forest fires, these floods, all of this destruction ?
- Understand well, the Earth is expressing its revival in 3rd density. For this doing it is first obliged to pass through this phase of chaos. It is in full transformation and washes itself from all the pollution caused by humanity that desperately attempted to destroy it. It liberates itself not only of physical and chemical pollution, but also of karmic memories, of psychological pollution, of violence and fear egregores that humanity has projected in the magnetic mesh of the Earth. It will offer again to a new wave of souls of accomplished beings, a renewed jewellery. It puts on itself a new clothing to continue to vibrate in 3rd unified density and welcome a new cycle of human adventurers.

In reality, the “New Earth” already exists in 3rd unified density and in superior frequencies. Your friend Christine evolves there like all of your other brothers and sisters from subtil plans and of the intra-earth. This “New Earth” is the manifestation of a new vibratory plan coming from the consciousness of awakened beings which is on the point of being accessible to more and more human beings.

Humanity is in a transition phase. There are seven billion people on the planet and seven billion ways of reaching awakening. Therefore the way in which this will happen is proper to everyone. Awakening can happen nearly instantly, in a few months, in a few years or a few centuries, no matter. That depends of the maturity of the soul.

- What is awakening then ?

- Awakening is a state of being accessible exclusively in the full consciousness of the present moment. I remind you that the true ascending masters always invite you to live the present moment. It is an individual process that gives birth deep down in your own cells. Awakening is a state of consciousness that is completely selfless from whatever emotional attachment. It is a state of non-duality, acceptance, interior balance in every situation. It makes it possible to live every moment in consciousness, without any projection. It is not about living in the past, nor in the future, it is about fully living the moment.

It is only by appreciating every moment, that this one becomes simply wonderful. It is so magical to not worry about past events, nor future events. Future does not exist in the “now”. In the present moment, so many problems are not existent. It is in this state of consciousness of the present moment that you create your new reality and there does not exist any artifice to reach awakening.

- If I have correctly understood, it is not useful to follow internships to free the cellular memories ?
- I would answer you « yes », but the title of your question is wrong. It is not because you do an internship that the memories free themselves. They undo themselves by their own self from the moment that a recurrent situation is solved by the seizure of consciousness and acceptance of this one. However in some cases when the process of seizure of consciousness is complicated, it is useful to accompany in their approach the ones who ask for it. This capacity of accompanying is not given to every therapist.

- So why do certain “spiritual guides” claim to teach awakening through channeling beings of light ?
- I have to pay you close attention to something. The New Age movement is orchestrated from the pyramid’s summit by the Annunaki archons that are beings belonging to dimensions generally invisible to your human beings’ eyes.

It is very important to understand that these beings coming from invisible dimensions can appear to your eyes, as a luminous silhouette, as they emit a vibration that is located slightly above the spectrum of the visible light. So, it is not because you can notice a being with a luminous body, that he is inevitably “on the light’s side”. Angels and demons both of them possess a light body because they are vibrating energies. Therefore, these beings that appear to you dressed with a light clothing, manipulate you skilfully by making the most of this dress-up. Their perverse influences are so subtle that they are hardly understandable for the human being’s psyche. Their role is to maintain the mental confusion by letting yourselves be convinced of channeling luminous beings. The clothes do not make the man, however they are as well part of the great plan. From this fact, these dressed up beings of the dark light, are grand masters to teach you discernment. They play the role that has been given to them by the divine plan. In reality, the key of your awakening is not to channelise luminous entities but to use your senses to not let yourselves trapped by their appearances, nor by their attractive messages.

I also remind you that the “Divine or the Spirit”, is the consciousness of the incarnated source in each of your bodies. All beings, being dark or luminous, are part of the same consciousness. There is no separation. The source’s consciousness has for so to say commissioned certain beings to fabricate “matter vessels” to your souls, that meaning human bodies. These are necessary for you in order for you to experiment unconditional Love and realise balance deep down in matter. The human being has arrived to the end of its experience until nearly identifying himself to this matter, forgetting that he is also the source. However, he has never really forgotten who he is. Thanks to the new emissions of the galactic sun that highlights the end of the cycle of 3rd density, he is going to be able to remember that he is also a conscious fractal of the source.

Some beings conceived by your creators have incarnated themselves at the same time as the human being in a dimension very close to yours. They are the ones you call Miminus* or small greys. They have the characteristic to have a smooth skin. They have been during all of your homo-sapiens’ incarnations, your managers, your guards, your “police” in the invisible plans. These beings are also present in the etherical dimensions and of the astral. They are generally small beings denuded of emotions, very intelligent, capable of a technology and of very evolved psychic abilities. They can induce in the human being’s psyche visions or actions that do not belong to you as a human being.

Therefore, certain people that have seen luminous beings, were actually in presence of a vision induced in the pineal gland by these small beings and have sometimes been manipulated in their unconscious to serve the plan of the Annunaki archons. Therefore certain channels or renowned gurus of the New Age have been victims of this illusion. Many of them have been guided in this experience by their soul, in order to make it possible for them to resolve a manipulation karma coming from other dimensions of existence.

- Maybe I have also fallen into this trap ?

- I think that you have met an Amasutum who is a life’s planner being. Can you remember her vibration ? What did you feel at that moment ? Are you at peace with this ? What you feel in your heart gives you the answer.

To claim treading the “New Earth”, it must be certified on your passport :

- I am honest and upright with myself as well as with my fellow brother.

- I make complete confidence in the guidance of my soul, whatever happens.

I am you, you are me.
